Rare Commercial Conversion Opportunity

523 N. Larchmont Blvd

OVERVIEW

Larchmont Village is only a half-square mile in area. Yet, it packs a hefty economic and social punch.

There are boutique retail shopping venues and charming restaurants that appeal to upscale consumers from all over Los Angeles. There are also a smattering of newly constructed commercial developments, mostly office buildings.

But the heart and true economic strength of the village are the classic, single-family residences that are neatly interlaced throughout. Many of these homes have been converted to a diverse range of commercial enterprise including entertainment/media companies, dental/medical offices, law/architectural firms, eateries, and numerous other uses.

523 N. Larchmont Boulevard is potentially one of these converted single-family residences.

Situated near-center of the district, the property contains 2,552 rentable square feet on two floors. Additionally, there are three covered garage parking spaces plus six other spaces – more than the great majority of village single-family residences.

The lot size is a healthy 7,000 square feet, amongst the largest commercial footprints in Larchmont.

The property is primed and ready for conversion – or perhaps a full-scale redevelopment.

Currently, it's the only such offering in Larchmont Village.

Highlights:

- Central Larchmont Village Location
- Proximity to Hollywood and Three Movie Studios
- Diverse Potential Commercial Uses

Parking:

- 3 Covered spaces
- 6 Other Spaces
